

About the Maine Island Trail Association

The Maine Island Trail, America's first water trail, is a recreational waterway for small boaters consisting of "wild" islands off the coast of Maine. A directory of Trail sites is laid out in an annual Maine Island Trail guidebook and mobile app for MITA members. Memberships cost as little as $25 (app only) or $45 (guidebook and app). In more than 30 years, MITA has never owned island properties; instead, through simple handshake agreements with island-owning partners, MITA facilitates island access for responsible boating explorers. Today, the Trail consists of more than 230 wild islands and coastal mainland sites from Kittery to Cobscook Bay. Every year, hundreds of volunteers conduct island stewardship work to keep these magnificent spaces pristine and open for visitation.

2. Business Membership

Business memberships support MITA at a lower level than sponsorships. Business members receive a fixed number of complimentary memberships, a custom coupon code entitling your company to unlimited discounted memberships for employees and customers, and a color poster identifying your company as a supporter of the Maine Island Trail. Unlike sponsors, however, business members do not receive promotional consideration.

- ✓ $250 business member: eight complimentary memberships, unlimited memberships at 20% off, color poster
- ✓ $100 business member: three complimentary memberships, unlimited memberships at 10% off, color poster

3. Group Service Days

During the boating season (mid-May to mid-October), MITA regularly hosts corporate groups looking for a meaningful and fun way to do community service as a team. Ideal group size for most projects is 3-8 people, but MITA can work with the group to make sure the project is a good fit for their size and interests.

4. Auction Items

MITA's boating season kick-off party, Splash!, features a silent auction to benefit our programs. MITA seeks mission-relevant auction items that are unique, adventurous, and substantial.

5. Member Benefits

MITA has an extensive program in which businesses offer discounts directly to MITA members. MITA publicizes these benefits annually in our e-blasts, on our social media pages, and at events. In 2018, 42 companies provided member benefits, including marinas, outfitters, manufacturers, and retail stores. For a complete list of current membership benefit providers, see www.mita.org/benefits.

6. In-kind Service Providers – Marine Industries and Retailers

With a fleet of eight boats and two tow vehicles to operate and maintain, MITA benefits from its relationship with several marine-related service providers. Additionally, retailers have offered in-kind gift cards for select MITA awardees and contest winners.
